IRRIGATIONISTS OF TEXAS WANT BETTER STATE IRRIGATION LAW

Interesting Convention Is Held at Pecos—The Next Session in April at Fort Worth.

Pecos, Texas, Jan. 28.—Forty delegates from over the state responded to the call for a meeting of the Irrigation Interests of the state, at Pecos, and organized the Texas Irrigation congress.
Because of the lack of laws applying to certain conditions affecting irrigation interests that have presented themselves, and in the desire to protect not only the interests of the irrigation companies, but the consumer as well, in the event of division of opinion as to their rights, considerable time was devoted to this subject.

The question of legislative action or constitutional amendment defining riparian rights and ownership of water, together with a plan for the division thereof, in case of conflicting claims was presented and thoroughly discus-ed, with the result that certain resolutions were adopted, declaring for a revision of such irrigation laws as are now effective, and the enactment of just and equitable legislation, that will insure to the irrigation enterprises of the state the greatest stability and certainty of water supply, thereby furnishing the greatest security for the investment of capital in the development of the territory.

The meeting also declared in favor of the enactment of a code of irrigation laws, that will fully safeguard and protect the users of water and define the right and obligation of the enterprises to deliver the water to them and to encourage cooperation between the canal companies and the consumer.

It was also the sense of the conference that there be created by the legislature of the state an irrigation commission, acting under the direction of, and in cooperation with, the department of agriculture.

The committee on permanent organization and constitution and bylaws asked for time until the next meeting for the preparation of the constitution and bylaws, believing there should be a great deal of thought given and care exercised in preparing this foundation upon which shall be built a factor of power in the development of the state.

Officers Elected.

The committee on permanent organization reported the following officers for the ensuing year:
President—M. L. Swinehart, of Pecos City.
Vice president—Maj. Jno. Wilson, of Barstow.

Vice president—William F. Hume, of Buena Vista.

Secretary—S. D. Pugh, of Arno.

Secretary treasurer—J. G. Love, of Pecos City.

Chairman executive committee—A. Z.
Monell, of Grand Falls.

Chairman publicity committee—U. S.
Pawlett, of Pecos City.

These were elected and the chairman of the committees instructed that they were to select the members of their respective committees, after conferring with the president, from various parts of the state.

Upon the decision of the congress to meet at Fort Worth, April 5 and 6, 1910, it was decided to divide the committees of five members each, with the understanding that at that meeting, and upon the adoption of the constitution and bylaws, the permanent committees should be elected, perhaps two from each congressional district.

Membership Fee.

The membership fee, to charter members, open until the adoption of the constitution and bylaws at Fort Worth, was fixed at $5, payable annually.

The date of the annual meeting was fixed on the first Tuesday of September, and San Antonio was selected as the place for holding that meeting.

At the suggestion of John S. Kerr, secretary of the Conservation Association of Texas, and realizing the value and assistance each organization could be to the other, it was decided that the next meeting of the congress should be at Fort Worth, April 5 and 6, the same date for the meeting of the Conservation association.

Some Irrigation Needs.

A. Z. Monell, general manager of the Grand Falls Irrigation company, presented the subject, "The Harmonizing of the Interests of Irrigation Companies." The speaker made it plain that, because of the rapid development being made in irrigation work, and the appropriation of the water available for such use, that the cooperation and harmony of action of all irrigation interests was imperative.

In discussion of the topic, "The Need of Uniform Laws Touching Irrigation," S. D. Pugh, president of the Arno Cooperative Irrigation company, stated the lack of laws fixing the riparian rights and ownership of water in Texas for irrigation purposes, and urged that the matter be presented to the proper authorities, looking to the enactment of such laws as will protect the water companies and the consumer alike.

E. D. Balcom, general manager of the Toyah Valley Irrigation company, an irrigationist of 15 years' experience, gave an instructive talk on the "Use and Abuse of Water in Irrigating."

S. V. Biggs, president of the Biggs Irrigation company, spoke on the "Conservation of Flood Waters." It was shown that in the past practically no attention had been given to this work, but as the availability of streams, creeks and springs are appropriated the next move to prevent the great waste of water will be the conservation of storm waters.

The aims and purposes of the Conservation Association of Texas were presented and explained by John S. Kerr, secretary, and Will L. Sargent, member of the executive committee of that organization.

Resolutions.

The resolutions were as follows:
Whereas the Texas Irrigation congress has assumed its purpose to be to unite every section of Texas in the promotion and perpetuation of successful irrigation systems and legislation that will enrich every part of Texas alike, resolved:

1. That the purpose and scope of this congress is the encouragement of the conservation, storage and equitable distribution and the protection of the natural and flood waters, of streams, artesian wells, springs, rainfall and other sources of water supply, the promotion and procurement of just and equitable legislation as will serve such purposes and insure to irrigation enterprise in this state the greatest security for the investment of capital in their development, and the enactment of a code of irrigation law such as will at the same time fully safeguard the users of the water and define the right and obligation of the enterprises delivering the water to them
them.

2. That the congress invites the cooperation of all other associations which have for their purpose the conservation of natural resources for the development or reclamation of arid and other lands of the state of Texas in the support of the work of this congress.

Law Revision.

3. That we insist upon such a revision of our irrigation laws as will secure not alone the aid of the state in its reclamation enterprises but such as will encourage the building of reservoirs and the construction of canals by both home and foreign capital.

4. That we encourage the investment of capital in the construction of the conservation of irrigation systems and their successful operation by securing unto such capital every protection guaranteed under a constitution which declares that taxation shall be uniform and equal and that we use our utmost endeavors to
